ATTEMPT TO FREE PATRICK.

Medico-Legal Society's Plea to Governor White of New York.

New York, Dec. 14.—Announcement is made that the Medico-Legal society has appealed to Governor White to pardon Albert T. Patrick, who is serving a life sentence in Sing Sing prison for the murder of William Marsh Rice in this city some years ago. It is maintained by the petitioners that Patrick is being held for a crime he never committed. They allege that he was convicted on medical testimony that emulating fluid introduced into a body through the right brachial artery would not enter the lungs, but that it has since been demonstrated that the testimony was wrong. One particular instance is cited where the fluid so injected is alleged to have penetrated the lungs, and a demonstration to convince Governor White is proposed. The committee of the Medico-Legal society which will confer with Governor White is composed of Clark Bell, ex-president of the society; Professor S. H. Eckels of Philadelphia and Congressman-elect J. J. Kindred of Astoria, L. I.

PEOPLE LOSE INTEREST.

British Elections Drag Wearily Along With No Change.

London, Dec. 14.—The election continues to drag wearily along. The public has lost interest and the newspapers have given up publishing late editions. Fleet street and other points where the returns are shown are deserted. The standing of the parties last night was: Government coalition, Liberals, 199; nationalists, 88; independent nationalists, 9; laborists, 30; total, 326. Opposition, unionists, 240. There were 42 pollings yesterday, but the results in only six constituencies were announced last night. No change was recorded in these. The coalition therefore has one gain to the good in the election so far. In Monday's elections, the results of which were announced yesterday afternoon, the liberals won in Newmarket and the nationalists in mid-Tyre, both from the unionists, while the latter equalized affairs by capturing Bodmin and Torquay.

PORT OF MONTREAL GROWING.

Tonnage of Shipping Exceeds 2,000,000 For First Time in History.

Montreal, Dec. 14.—The official figures for the port of Montreal show an increase in every department. The tonnage of ships totaled 2,344,722 tons. This is the first time in history that the tonnage has gone as high as 2,000,000. The customs revenue establishes another record, the official total being $10,833,101, or more than $1,000,000 above last year's figures. Statistics supplied by the pilotage office show that 710 ocean vessels came here and 319 from the lakes, an increase of 127 all around and of 83 ocean-going vessels. These ships carried as crews 80,891 persons and passengers 78,405. The total number of longshoremen employed on the wharves during the season was 138,730, an increase of 21,164. Canadian Pacific traffic increased 30 per cent. eastbound. The westbound increase was 30 per cent. The Allen line carried 35,143 passengers more than in 1909.

FIGHT IS STOPPED.

Attell and O'Connell Greeted With Hisses—Tame Fight.

Oklahoma City, Okla., Dec. 14.—A scheduled ten-round bout between Matt Attell and Jeff O'Connell was stopped by the promoters at the end of the fifth round here last night and entrance money was refunded. The promoters refused to pay either fighter. The fight was tame from start to finish. Hissing started in the first round and throughout the fight the spectators could not be quieted. Between the rounds the noise was loud and raucous. During the fight Promoter Elks came to the ringside and requested the referee to make the two men fight or get out of the ring.

Old Men Retired

Industrial Concerns Will Engage Only Young Men.

In these days of strenuous competition, when dividends count for more than men, the man who retains his youth is the man who holds his job the longest.

That is why one of the most successful dermatologists in Paris has warned young men to take good care of the hair. If you grow bald at 30 or 35 or even when you are older, that bald spot will, so far as appearance goes, add 10 years to your life.

Men who have hair should by all means keep it. In later years it may mean a livelihood to yourself and family.

Dandruff means falling hair; falling hair means dandruff. Stop falling hair and dandruff now. Go to the Red Cross Pharmacy and get a large 50-cent bottle of Parisian Sage. They will guarantee it to stop falling hair, to drive out all dandruff and kill the dandruff germs, or money back.

Remember that the man with a bald head who seeks a position is handicapped at the start. Parisian Sage will make hair grow, will give it a lustrous appearance that denotes health and youthfulness. For sale by the Red Cross Pharmacy and druggists everywhere. Girl with auburn hair on every bottle.

TARIFF FORCED TO THE FRONT

Senator Cummins Presents Iowa Idea

IN UNITED STATES SENATE

Opens War on Payne Tariff, and Both Senators Aldrich and Lodge Favor His Proposition—Would Increase Commission.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Contending that the present tariff imposes excessive duties and that the country at large demands its amendment, Senator Cummins of Iowa yesterday delivered a speech in the Senate in advocacy of his resolution, limiting the power of amendment to bills dealing with the separate schedules of the law.

The speech was the first attack of the session on the Payne-Aldrich law, and it received careful attention.

Declaring that under existing parliamentary usage in the House and Senate, the amendment of a tariff law is out of the question, he contended that the first step to be taken was the modification of the rules, so as to render it possible to amend individual provisions of the tariff law, without taking up the entire tariff question.

Mr. Cummins had not proceeded far before he was compelled to submit to interruptions.

Mr. Aldrich affirmed the Iowa senator's views, expressing concurrence with the latter.

"I think," said the Rhode Island member, "that we are all agreed that it is desirable to take up the tariff by subjects, not by schedules."

He expressed doubt, however, as to the adequacy of the Cummins amendment to accomplish this result, contending that the adoption of the resolution would have the effect of curtailing the constitutional power of the House to originate tariff legislation.

Mr. Bacon also contended for the right of each house to formulate its own rules.

Mr. Heyburn would not give assent to the proposition that all Republicans are agreed as to the policy of piece-meal tariff revision; he advocated the protective policy and declined to be committed to any other policy.

"After an experience with five tariffs, I believe that some way should be devised for the amendment of tariff laws without entering into a general revision," said Mr. Lodge, planting himself squarely on Mr. Cummins' side.

SENATORS FAVOR DIRECT ELECTIONS

Judiciary Committee to Report on the Bristow Plan for Constitutional Amendment.

Washington, Dec. 14.—Supporters of the idea of direct election of senators are going to get due consideration of this question in the Senate, with some prospect of favorable action, according to present indications.

The Senate judiciary committee will make a favorable report, according to present plans, on the Bristow resolution for a constitutional amendment for election of senators by direct vote.

Insurgent senators are determined to force the issue. They will have Democratic backing, and they hope to get the measure put through. At least they say they are going to get a larger vote than ever before.

RECORD OIL DEAL CLOSED.

Standard Co. Pays $9,000,000 to J. C. Trees Co. for Louisiana Fields.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 14.—A check for $9,000,000 and notes for $5,000,000 have been received in this city from the Standard Oil company, and their receipt marks the closing of the largest transaction in the history of oil fields of the United States.

The $9,000,000 was in payment of a debt to the J. C. Trees Oil company, which sprang into international fame in a day by selling its Louisiana oil fields to the Standard. The sale was made several weeks ago in New York, after the deal had hung fire for months, while officials of the Standard inspected the Trees holdings in Cade Parish, La.

SASONOFF IS DEAD

And Russian Government Says He Committed Suicide.

St. Petersburg, Dec. 14.—The report that M. Sasonoff has died in the prison at Zaratul was officially confirmed yesterday. The death is attributed to suicide.

Sasonoff assassinated former Minister of the Interior Von Plehve on July 28, 1904. Recently rumors that the prisoner had been fatally injured by a flooding had been in circulation.

According to the governor of the prison, the officers discovered a plot to release the political prisoners en masse. A large sum of money had been collected, of which sum $250 had been smuggled to Sasonoff. The authorities, thereupon, reinforced the prison guards and stopped all communication between the convicts and the outer world. They also ordered the corporal punishment of the convicts.

As a protest against these measures three of the prisoners severed the arteries in their wrists and three others, including Sasonoff, took fatal doses of morphine.

FRENCH CRUISER ASHORE.

Accident During Gale in Brest Harbor, Where American Ships Are at Anchor.

Brest, France, Dec. 14.—A violent storm, accompanied by thunder and lightning, raged over the harbor yesterday. The visiting American battleships, the Minnesota, Idaho, Mississippi and Vermont, held firm by their anchors, but the French armored cruiser Edgar Quinet parted her chains and was driven on the beach. She was hoisted later by tugs and apparently had sustained no damage.

INSPIRING ADDRESSES HEARD LAST EVENING

of ceremonies and called upon the secretary of the club, Rev. P. B. Fisk, for "Contrasts in the Churches Represented in 1810 and 1910." Mr. Fisk is fortunate in tracing his ancestry on both sides back to men and women who were pioneers in the early religious life of central Vermont. Hence the selection of him to discuss religious men and methods of the last century was timely and fitting.

Mr. Fisk stated that only seven churches were established in this vicinity prior to 1800. Randolph Center has the honor of having the first organized Congregational society, a number of members effecting the same as early as 1786. A meetinghouse was erected by this society in 1792. The next earliest organization was in Braintree in 1794. Later a church edifice was completed in 1801. The remaining five, with the date of establishment and the time of erecting a church, follow in the order of their coming: Williamstown, 1795, church erected in 1812; Waitsfield, 1796, church erected in 1807; Berlin, 1796, church erected in 1801; Barre, 1796, date of first meetinghouse not known; Plainfield, 1799, date of first church edifice unknown.

Other towns within the jurisdiction of the club started societies in the years following: Marshfield, 1800; Waterbury, 1801; Cabot, 1801; Montpelier, 1808. The speaker gave many graphic historical facts of those first churches and paid a glowing tribute to those early giants of religion who hazarded all the comforts and conveniences of civilization in order to firmly plant the gospel in the virgin wilderness. We, of this generation, he said, cannot fully appreciate the hardships which they were compelled to undergo, nor can we fully appreciate the value of the sacrifices they made for their convictions. Mr. Fisk's remarks plainly revealed the painstaking care which must have attended his researches. Several heirlooms handed down from those early days were exhibited by the speaker and added a touch of reality to his words. His efforts were heartily applauded when he had finished.

The speaker of the evening, Rev. C. A. Vincent, D. D., pastor of the Walnut avenue Congregational church of Roxbury, Mass., was then introduced. The subject of his address took the nature of a contrast to the religious conditions portrayed by the previous speaker. "The Church and the Future of Representative Government" formed the topic of a masterly discourse, compelling the closest attention of the listeners for over an hour. Possessing an excellent command of language, and with a pleasing manner of delivery, his remarks revealed the mind of a man thoroughly conversant with the principles and possibilities of government by the people. His arguments for cleaner elections and stronger administrations were clear cut and to the point. His descriptions of latter-day men and methods in American political life were not overdrawn, and yet left nothing to be assumed. He treated a difficult subject in a manner emphatically convincing and had the audience with him from the start.

Opening his address with parallel descriptions of the development of the Israelites and the early settlers of this country, he traced the history of the latter down to the present day. Immediately after the Civil war, he said, the nation fell into something that bordered upon political disrepair. A country that even then boasted of a representative government countenanced such evils as the ward boss, the wire-puller and the grafter. Things continued in this state until within the last decade, when an awakening of the public conscience started a reform which is yet in its infancy. Political and moral corruption is still extant in this country, he maintained, and it is, therefore, the duty of the present generation to continue reforms which will perpetuate and establish more firmly the system of a representative government and a pure democracy.

The secret ballot and the primary system, he said, are only the first steps in this campaign. As a method of furthering the work of cleansing political methods now existing, he argued that the citizens of a community should get together and study more closely the conditions which surround them. In line with this plea for concerted action along this line, he referred to the immigration problem now facing the country. He ridiculed the idea that the future government of the United States was to be perfected only by men who traced their ancestry back to Plymouth rock. The brotherhood movement, he believed, was one of the keystones of our future progress, and he argued that a distinct program of national advancement should be taught in the public schools. The final American, he said, will be larger and better than as though confined entirely to Anglo-Saxon blood.

Turning to the position the church held in upholding these ideals, he deplored the attitude displayed by many toward it. When a man has nothing else to do, he directs his kicks and cuffs at the church, he said. In line with the whole hope of future in America lies in that institution. He expressed this belief, he said, as an American citizen. Science has made rapid strides in developing the material world, and now the church has its opportunity in awakening man's deepest sense of the unseen world.

The church in its social element, he said, had a tendency to bring men into a closer bond of brotherhood in a way that no other institution could accomplish. It is a great thing to know that a man is living for someone else, and in no other sphere of life is this so forcibly brought out as in the church. It also offers the benefit of the greatest ethical doctrine the world has ever known; its missionary spirit that has followed the flag into every foreign land; and lastly it possesses the moral principles that force consciousness of eternity upon a man, and, after all, this is the sum total of man's existence.

In bringing his address to a close, he pointed to Count Tolstoi, whom he characterized as the greatest evangelist the world has ever known, as a wonderful yet simple personality, illuminated by great ideals. Such a life, he believed, is the one uncomparable force in the world.

Following the conclusion of his remarks, the session again convened, and on behalf of the club the president heartily thanked Dr. Vincent for his inspiring address. On motion, a session of one of the by-laws was subject to a revision, which resulted in the meetings of the club being changed from a semi-annual to an annual occasion. Adjournment followed.

Although no definite arrangements were completed last evening, it has been suggested that the next meeting of the club be held in Waterbury. According to the constitution, however, the matter of fixing the date and place of meeting is left at the discretion of the executive committee.

ROOSEVELT AT NEW HAVEN

Makes No Reference to Elections in Speech

AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Confines Speech to Reiteration of Well-known Views—Governor-elect Baldwin Does Not Attend, His Chair Vacant.

New Haven, Conn., Dec. 14.—Ex-President Roosevelt's first political speech since the recent election was delivered here last night at a dinner given to him by the New Haven chamber of commerce. He made no reference to the recent elections or to current political subjects, confining himself to a reiteration of the broad political doctrines to which he gave expression many times during his speaking trips of the past summer.

Governor-elect Simon E. Baldwin's place at the banquet table was vacant. He remained at home, retiring early. There were no developments in Colonel Roosevelt's controversy with Judge Baldwin during the colonel's stay here, and neither one would make any comment upon it.

Early in his address, Colonel Roosevelt said:

"It seems to me that nothing could be a better augury of the future of this country," began Mr. Roosevelt, "than that a Republican president should appoint an ex-Confederate of opposite political faith chief justice of the United States and the speaker of the house of his countrymen. With the permission of your president, I shall propose two toasts: First, to President Taft, and second, to that learned jurist, Chief Justice White."

Mr. Roosevelt defined his attitude in politics in these words:

"I am a radical, but I am a radical who earnestly desires to see a radical program carried out by conservatives." He again declared his faith in efficient regulation of corporations by the federal government and defended his attitude by asserting that he sought, not to convert the constitution, but to help in bringing about the fulfillment of its purposes.

MAY BE ALDRICH AGAIN.

Senator to Be Re-elected, It Is Said, in Case of Deadlock.

Providence, R. I., Dec. 14.—In the hope of preventing the election to the U. S. Senate of Judge B. Colt, the independent Republican running against Col. Henry L. Lippitt, it was admitted by a prominent party leader that Senator Aldrich might again be the candidate.

It was admitted by members of the state Republican committee that the question of going back to Aldrich had been under consideration. In the midst of the campaign have been heard with frequency remarks that "Aldrich will succeed himself," "It will be Aldrich."

In case of a deadlock it is probable that Senator Aldrich will be presented as a candidate to succeed himself. "There is no doubt of his re-election," said one man in a position to know.

CHIEF JUSTICE NOT SWORN.

Judge White Defers Ceremony Out of Courtesy to Judge Harlan.

Washington, Dec. 14.—To the disappointment of a gathering that crowded the supreme court of the United States to its capacity, Judge Edward Douglas White did not take the oath of office yesterday as chief justice of the United States. For one thing the new chief justice was late. The court, led by Presiding Justice Harlan, had taken its place on the bench before Justice White arrived at the capitol. It is understood that Justice White did not intend to take the oath yesterday and that it was his intention to pay Justice Harlan, senior member of the court, a delicate compliment by permitting him to preside over the court, possibly until after the holiday recess, which will end January 3.

CHURCH ADOPTS RIGID RULE.

Members Who Fail to Attend Services Will Be Dropped.

Worcester, Mass., Dec. 14.—After Jan. 1 those so-called members of the Memorial Congregational church who fail to attend services and support the church according to their ability, who neglect to take holy communion at the Lord's supper, will be dropped from the roll and will be forbidden any voice or vote in the business meetings of the church. This enactment was adopted unanimously at the annual business meeting of the church and takes the place of the previous ruling, that if a member of the church attended church or sent a message to the church once in two years, he or she would be considered in good standing.

The Rev. Edward Eells, pastor, who was moderator, said that this amendment had been adopted and used with great success in all of his pastorate. He was emphatic in saying that the rule would not affect the past, but be applied only after the new year.

WOULD TRY COOPER AGAIN.

Tennessee Attempting to Have Acquittal in Carmack Murder Case Set Aside.

Nashville, Tenn., Dec. 14.—A petition asking that the Davidson county criminal court declare illegal and void the proceedings by which Robin J. Cooper, charged with the murder of former United States Senator Edward Ward Carmack, was recently acquitted, was filed yesterday by the attorneys who represented the state in the first trial, in which Robin J. Cooper and his father, Duncan B. Cooper, were convicted, and by Sam C. Carmack, brother of Senator Carmack. The petition charges that the effort to acquit the defendant was a fraud upon the state, done without the knowledge of any lawyer representing the state and without conference with any witnesses for the state. After hearing the petition, Judge A. B. Neil refused to allow it to be filed. The next move will be to take the case before the supreme court on a writ of certiorari.

The thermometer was near zero at the time, and a strong tide was running, but Snyder dived into the water and after some difficulty succeeded in reaching and saving his shipmate. Snyder is from South Bethlehem.

Persons coming from Madiera on the Mexican Northwestern road said that as the train passed through Pedernales the fighting could be heard and women and children were crying in the streets.

AMUSEMENT NOTES.

"Alias Jimmy Valentine," at Opera House Thursday Night.

Seats for the forthcoming engagement of Paul Armstrong's successful play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine," are now on sale at Kendrick's drug store.

In this remarkable play, the leading character is a professional safe breaker, who has trained his finger tips to such a degree of sensitiveness, that he can detect the fall of the levers in a safe or vault by his sense of touch, thus being able to open it regardless of his ignorance of the combinations. The first act finds this trained criminal in Sing Sing prison, where a fortunate train of circumstances wins for him the gubernatorial pardon, and, also, puts him on the straight road to reform. Thanks to the kindness of influential friends, whom he has been able to benefit, this former bank looter is given a responsible position in a national bank. There, by honest and efficient service, he soon works his way near the top of the ladder, when a child, having been accidentally shut in a new vault, the combination of which has not yet been determined, he is forced to choose between saving a life or preserving his secret. The play is founded on a short story by the late O. Henry, called "A Retrieved Reformation." It is written in the straightforward manner of all Paul Armstrong's plays, and is the most successful that profile author ever wrote, which, considering that "The Heir to the Throne" and "Salomy Jane," came from his pen, is a statement to which much weight is to be attached.

Lieber & company will furnish a strong company and a fine production for the play, which fills an engagement at the opera house to-morrow night, December 15.

Nervous Headaches.

"Nervous headaches occur in hysterical or neurasthenic individuals and those suffering from overwork or worry," says Dr. Jean Williams in the Woman's Home Companion for December. "In this class might also be mentioned headaches due to eye-strain. The error of vision may be so slight that the patient is not conscious of any impairment of her sight, but the constant effort to counteract it is sapping her nervous energy. When frequent headaches occur, it is important to have the vision carefully tested by a competent eye specialist. No further search for a cause may be necessary. Disinfection of the ear; a deviated septum in the nose; adenoids
